

Green Canal Boat Holidays

Now that we know how much damage our flights abroad are doing to the environment, why not stay in Britain this year and take a greener holiday on Britain's very own picturesque canals?

Narrowboat hire offer you an environmentally friendly alternative to flying. You can have a great holiday at an affordable price that doesn't have a huge Carbon footprint.

Did you know that even a short haul flight produces the equivalent emissions of 3 months of driving your car? For the growing numbers of us who are concerned about pollution and global warming, an exciting holiday alternative within Britain can help us cut down on our foreign escapades... helping us to stay green!

Quickly and easily you'll find yourself immersed in a totally different British cultural experience.

With a narrowboat holiday, you can relax in the Great British outdoors, get closer to nature; and delve into the folk art and traditions of the industrial revolution.

Most narrowboats run on diesel and are nice and compact; They burn so much less than your car would as you meander down the nation's picturesque waterways.

The rest of the boat's power is simply generated by the running of the engine. Narrowboat holidays will save you cash and will have considerably less impact on the environment!

Perfect for the environmentally aware holidaymaker.

Green boating holidays are definitely the future for all of us. Get on board now.
